

Royal Baking Powder

Absolutely Pure

The Woman Makes the Home

She makes it best who, looking after the culinary department, turns her back resolutely upon unhealthful, or even suspicious, food accessories. She is economical; she knows that true economy does not consist in the use of inferior meat, flour, or baking powder. She is an earnest advocate of home made, home baked food, and has proved the truth of the statements of the experts that the best cooking in the world today is done with Royal Baking Powder.

Salt River Concrete Work Is Subject of Full Page Write Up With Cuts in Concrete Era

A recent issue of Concrete Era, coming to this city, had in it an article on the use of concrete in Arizona, the contents of which has already been reported in The Republican. However, little was said at that time of the illustrations which accompanied the article and which were submitted to the Era by Harry Welch of the Phoenix board of trade. The photographs, and they cover a full page in a most artistic arrangement, are all practical illustrations of the results so far attained by the use of concrete in this state.

The concrete construction used in the tunnels which have been borrowed about each end of the Roosevelt dam and which are lined throughout with this substance, is shown in a half-tone which gives a complete view of the entire length of one of the tunnels. A second of the dam views, one familiar to most of the residents of the Salt River valley, is that of the last curve before getting to the Roosevelt lake. It shows the concrete guard wall about the curve and the overhead tramway, with the broad expanse of the lake in the rear.

A concrete bridge on the Roosevelt-Phoenix road is the subject of a third cut on this page. It is one of the many concrete spans of a like character which have been constructed in the state in the past two years and gives the reader an idea of the good roads this state offers.

The last of the views is one of an irrigation ditch in the arid districts of Arizona. It demonstrates spectacularly what may be done with water when it is checked by the brute rein of concrete, giving freedom here, restraining there, at the will of the man with the hoe.

EXTRA POLICE IN SEATTLE

SEATTLE, Dec. 19.—(The Associated Press dispatch.)—Thirty extra police tonight were ordered to report for duty tomorrow morning as a result of the shooting of two striking teamsters by a strike-breaker yesterday. After the shooting today, crowds of men were congregating along the water front, but the police prevented serious trouble from developing.

DIRECTORS ARE REINDICTED.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 19.—(The Associated Press dispatch.)—Charles A. Elder, former president of the Los Angeles investment company, and ten other former directors of the twenty million dollar corporation were re-indicted by the federal grand jury on charges of making fraudulent use of the mails. The new indictments, which contained four counts, gave specific instances of the crimes alleged and required the blanket bill upon which the eleven defendants were previously arrested.

MRS. SING ACQUITTED.

CHICAGO, Dec. 19.—Mrs. Charles Sing, the white woman charged with the murder of her Chinese husband, was acquitted. Sing was a restaurant keeper. He was stabbed to death two months ago and his wife was found unconscious near his body.

GEARY AND TEAM WILL BE GUESTS TONIGHT

Literary Program, Public Affair, Will Follow Banquet, in Honor of Geary and His Team.

The Book and Pen club will give an additional program to the public this evening following the banquet of the football squad by the girls of the school. The entertainment of the Book and Pen will, like the banquet, be an offering in honor of the fellows who carried the football banner of the Coyotes to first place in the state. It will be the last official football recognition for the year.

The banquet is primarily a mark of respect to the coach of the Coyotes victorious team on the fall gridiron. Francis S. Geary, coach par excellence, maker of the '13 team, will be the guest of honor. It is a banquet prepared wholly at the hands of the girls of the school, the same members of the fair sex serving the meal. It is a thanks offering for goods delivered.

The program, which follows the banquet is a public affair. To it all the friends of the school, parents and others, are invited. Book and Pen have arranged several special number, including a skit, addresses, readings, and music, both instrumental and vocal. Nearly all in the club will have something to do on the assembly stage. I. Colodien, of the language department of the school, will have charge of the program production.

FIND COUNTERFEITER'S DEN.

MONTREAL, Dec. 19.—(The Associated Press dispatch.)—What is believed to be the fountain head of a stream of counterfeit money, was located today in the heart of a forest near Joliet, Quebec, and five men whose identity the secret service men refuse to reveal, are under arrest. The counterfeiters and their den were found after a chase extending over several months, leading the secret service men from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

TO GUARD "MONA LISA"

FLORENCE, Dec. 19.—(The Associated Press dispatch.)—Director general of Fine Arts, personally supervised today the packing of the painting "Mona Lisa" which will be forwarded to Rome tomorrow. The picture will be guarded by the police and museum officials, while carabinieri will be on duty at all stations along the railroad line. School children accompanied by their teachers, were allowed today to view "Mona Lisa." An unknown man visited Perugia's palace this afternoon and offered to advance $1000 for Perugia's bail.

CONCRETE COLUMNS

These or four years ago Dr. F. von Emperger, of Vienna, Austria, proposed making reinforced-concrete columns with a core of cast iron. The core, as proposed, was so large that the column would in effect be a cast-iron column strengthened by a shell of hooped concrete or masonry. He did not limit the idea to columns, but extended it also to compression members such as the ribs of arch bridges.

During the past two years this idea has been carried into practice in at least two important cases. An arch bridge of 124-ft. span, the Schwarzenberg bridge, was built during the last winter in Leipzig, Germany, as a footbridge over the railway tracks near the International architectural exhibition; it was completed in April, 1913, and has been in use since then.

Experiments made on members built according to the combination cast-iron-and-concrete system have shown very remarkable toughness and high strength. They show in the testing machine a complete absence of the brittleness which characterized the ordinary crushing failure of cast-iron columns. The failure loads of such columns, after deducting the load-carrying capacity of the hooped concrete shell, were over twice as high as the capacities of the unreinforced cast-iron columns.—Engineering News

SAY DOWN WITH THE TRAITORS

Emiliano Zapata Issues Circular in Which He Says That Rebels Will Take Mexico By Surprise and Movement Will Succeed

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 19.—(The Associated Press dispatch.)—"Traitors like Huerta and Blumstein, very short process should be publicly degraded and hanged from the balconies of the National Palace as a warning to all. The rest of the cabinet should be shot after being judged."

Such is the sentence passed on the executive and his official family by Emiliano Zapata, in a circular dated Milpa Alta, December 16 which appeared in the capital tonight. It was addressed to the inhabitants of Mexico City. Zapata says that at a war council he was resolved to take the city by fire and sword on a day which for the better success of the assault is to be unknown until the moment the light begins. Zapata's threats are not taken seriously here.

By appealing directly to General Huerta today, Nelson O'Shaughnessy, American charge d'affaires, obtained from him almost immediate and unequivocal consent to release three Americans now in jail, whose liberation long has been delayed by legal maneuvering. The men ordered set free are H. J. Kidder, William Krause and John Parker. It developed, apparently, that General Huerta had known nothing of the incarceration of the men, or efforts that have been made by Mr. O'Shaughnessy to procure their release. Made impatient by a long series of evasions and excuses given him from other sources, Mr. O'Shaughnessy risked incurring the displeasure of minor officials, and found Huerta apparently willing and anxious to demonstrate by the order for their release his intention to insure fair play. He declared that as long as he is president he will refuse to countenance any discrimination against Americans, or any persecution of them because of their nationality.

The Bank of London and Mexico has been the first to suffer as a result of the reduced volume of the medium of exchange caused by the non-acceptance of the state bank notes. Long lines gathered in front of the Central bank again today, and by the dilatory methods of paying only partially the redemption of notes, served to keep the amount of money hoarded out down to the minimum. But at the bank of London and Mexico the line, though shorter, was more menacing. Throughout the day the management was forced to witness very heavy withdrawals of deposits.

Play Waiting Game

JUARIZ, Dec. 19.—The situation in northern Mexico appears to be one of waiting as far as military operations are concerned. General Villa, with his rebel forces at Chihuahua, are waiting for definite word as to where he will be joined by General Carranza, head of the revolution, who is now at Hermosillo.

At Ojinaga, where practically all the northern federal troops are camped, preparations are continuing what appeared to be departure from that place. General Mercado, who has charge of the active campaigning and intended to march to Chihuahua, but others believe however, that the federalists had another plan in mind and will possibly march along the border to Juarez. A quarter of a million dollars in Mexican money was sent to Ojinaga by way of Marfa, Texas, to pay the federal troops who have been without funds for weeks. The reports that William Scovay, son of the Mormon bishop of the colony at Juarez, had been killed by bandits west of here, proved untrue, according to rebel scouts.

Federals Ask Protection

HERMOSILLO, Dec. 19.—A group of federal officers with troops appeared at Mexicana, the constitutional base above Guaymas, and asked for guarantees of their personal safety. A special train left here this afternoon to bring them to Hermosillo. News of their surrender followed the report that General Ojeda, commander at Guaymas, had disappeared in entire loss of contact of the federal garrison, after a discovery of a plot of the officers and men to desert to the constitutionalists.

The names of the officers and the number of troops that surrendered at Maytorena, were not mentioned in the report as received by General Obregon, the constitutionalist commander of the north military zone.

The capitulation of Guaymas is expected at any moment.

Many Have Surrendered

TORRES, Sonora, Dec. 19.—Ten officers and more than five hundred troops of the federal garrison at Guaymas, have surrendered to insurgents at Maytorena, the insurgent base above the gulf seaport, it was reported here tonight.

SAYS LOVE AND DEVOTION

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—The first masterful witness for the defense in the trial of Hans Schmidt, testified today. He was Dr. Perry Liechtenstein, a physician from the Tombs prison. The doctor said that Schmidt talked with him freely about the murder. Schmidt had described it, he said, as a sacrifice of love and devotion. Owing to a death in the family of one of the jurors the case was adjourned until Monday.
